

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON IS BREATHING EASIER

HOOVER REMAINS AS HEAD OF THE COMMERCE DEPT.

CAPITAL IS ENDING UNSETTLED WEEK-END, AND NERVES ARE JUMPY

RESIGNATIONS AND REPLACEMENTS CAUSE MOST INTENSE INTEREST

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 17.—The situation in Washington was calmer today, after official announcement from the White House that Secretary Herbert Hoover would continue as head of the department of commerce and that the president expected for the time being no further changes in important posts. The capital is just ending one of the most unsettled weeks in history and its nerves are jumpy. Resignations and replacements kept it wondering what the fast-moving man in the White House was going to do and what public officials would be the next to go.

Latest developments were that Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes is slated to be replaced as soon as Congress votes on the Crampton bill to make an independent department out of the prohibition bureau and that General Frank T. Hines will resign as head of the Veterans Bureau.

Arthur Woods of New York was talked of as Haynes' successor but he denies the post has been offered. Governor General Leonard Wood also talked of once before but without much conviction.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was mentioned in connection with Haynes' successor. Roosevelt is at present available and the president's choice may land on him.

Secretary Hoover's blunt statement of his refusal to accept the agricultural post was explained today by his friends as planned to silence once and for all the talk of his being transferred. Hoover has many enemies in agricultural circles, whom his friends fear would seize upon the proposed move to open violent personal attacks against him if he hesitated and they advised him to leave no doubt about his refusal.

ROOF OF NEW NICOLLET HOTEL TO HOUSE MINNEAPOLIS STUDIOS

MANY NEW FEATURES ARE TO BE INTRODUCED BY STATION

Minneapolis, Jan. 17.—Work started yesterday on the new Minneapolis studios of the Gold Medal radio station WCCO, which will be located on the roof of the new Nicollet hotel.

It is expected that they will be finished in six weeks, the management of WCCO announced. Installation of the Gold Medal station's new 5,000-watt transmitting equipment, which will be located 18 miles northwest of St. Paul and Minneapolis, will also be completed about that time, it was said.

Arrangements are now under way for a new St. Paul studio, but the exact location has not been selected. WCCO officials hope to have it ready for the opening of the new 5,000-watt station.

The Minneapolis executive offices of the Gold Medal station will be located on the twelfth floor of the new Nicollet hotel.

The new Minneapolis studios of WCCO will include all of the best features of the studios of the larger broadcasting stations of the country, as well as improvements which have never been built into any broadcasting studios.

A special structure to house the new studios is being built on the roof of the Nicollet. Plans were drawn by Holabird & Roche, architects, who drew the plans for the new Nicollet, and will conform to the lines of the hotel structure. The work is being done by C. F. Haglin & Sons Co., who built the Nicollet, and they have crews working both day and night. The structure measures 35x60 feet fronting Washington ave.

A feature which has never been tried before in any broadcasting studio will be glass panels between the two studios and the reception room, through which visitors may watch artists and others broadcasting. In addition there will be a promenade along one side of the larger studio, from which operations of the large broadcasting room may be seen through glass panels.

FRISCO IS AROUSED OVER "JAZZMANIA"

CASE OF DOROTHY ELLINGSON, WHO SHOT TO DEATH HER MOTHER

LATTER OBJECTED TO GAY LIFE THAT SHE WAS LEADING

(By United Press)
San Francisco, Jan. 17.—San Francisco was aroused today as it seldom has been over the case of Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year old "jazzmaniac," who shot to death her mother who objected to her participation in a life of mad gaiety.

Social workers, police and federal officials and various organizations were busy trying to answer the question of what should be done.

Action so far has consisted of the arrest of four of Dorothy's "sheiks," issuance of warrants for 13 others, and the arrest of May Fitzgerald, her companion. A plan for a general roundup of juvenile court wards on probation and a rigid investigation of the sale of liquor in out-of-the-way, all-night cafes, is to follow.

GIRL CALLED TO ATTEND INQUEST

San Francisco, Jan. 17.—Dorothy Ellingson, who killed her mother in a fit of "jazzmania," was called from her jail cell here today to attend the inquest held by the coroner to determine formally the cause of her mother's death.

She was led by two policemen and a matron from the jail to the coroner's court, where her father and her brother, Earl, both of whom have refused to aid her, also were to appear.

During the inquest the girl was kept in an anteroom to shield her from the gaze of curious crowds which overflowed the courtroom.

"This is what I dread worst of all," she told reporters. "I dread their curiosity and I dread to hear the story told."

She seemed composed, however, but her face was even more lined and drawn than yesterday.

When Earl Ellingson, Dorothy's brother, faced her, however, the girl turned her face away, trembled a little, and flushed. The beat of her heart could be seen in the veins of her throat by observers across the room, but despite the intense strain she was under, she spoke not a word.

Sheriff Swallows Cigar

When Sheriff Matt Starwich started for the scene of the Kent bank holdup tragedy he was smoking a cigar. He climbed into the driver's seat of his car puffing furiously.

He passed Renton, still smoking. Then the cigar went out. He hadn't time to throw away the stub.

He passed the Renton Junction cut-off and crashed into the rear of a Japanese-driven light truck that stopped suddenly just ahead of him. The truck went into the ditch on one side, Starwich on the other.

He halted the first passing motorist and got his car pulled back on the highway, then raced on to Kent. And at Kent, he discovered, to his great discomfort, he had swallowed the cigar stub.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

HUGHES' FRIENDS DO NOT WANT HIM MADE A "GOAT"

DEFEND HIM FROM CONGRESSIONAL ATTACK ON WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

LATTER RELATED TO POINTS ON NAVAL LIMITATION TREATIES

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 17.—Secretary of State Hughes' friends today rallied to beat off attempts to make him a "goat" in the congressional attack on the Washington conference on naval limitation treaties.

Senator McKellar's charges that the American delegates, headed by Hughes, were "hoodwinked" and "out-traded" by the British brought out denials and explanations as follows:

1. If Hughes did not secure specific provisions in the treaties covering elevation of guns on American battleships the fault was with navy advisors, not Hughes, for the subject was not even brought up in the conference.

2. Congress is to blame if it has not appropriated sufficient money to keep the navy up to the 5-5-3 ratio.

3. The principal weaknesses of the navy, in auxiliary craft, which has caused so much talk, was not even touched by the treaty and hence is no fault of Hughes.

NORTHERN PACIFIC OPENS OFFICE AT SHANGHAI, CHINA

St. Paul, Jan. 17.—The Northern Pacific Railway today announced the establishment of a general agency at Shanghai, China.

The office will be for the purpose of supervising its freight and passenger traffic between the United States and China, Japan, the Philippine islands and other parts of the orient.

"The commercial activity of Japan is well known and reverses caused by the earthquake are but temporary road's statement said. "The resources of China and Siberia are unlimited and we expect rapid progress to be made in development of these resources as soon as the political atmosphere is cleared in China." It was stated at Northern Pacific headquarters.

The company also feels that the steady increase in manufacturing enterprise in the middle west will soon throw a larger portion of oriental trade through Pacific coast ports in connection with transcontinental rail lines than has been the case since the opening of the Panama canal.

The Northern Pacific selected for the purpose of looking after its business in the far east and fostering friendly relations with the orient, R. J. Tozer, who though still a young man, has had 25 years experience in various positions with both freight and passenger departments of the Northern Pacific and Burlington. Mr. Tozer was assistant general passenger agent at Chicago until receiving his appointment. He will sail for the orient Jan. 27.

COLLIER AND FREIGHTER IN HEADON CLASH

(By United Press)
Boston, Mass., Jan. 17.—The Munson collier Munabro and the Norton-Lilly freighter Robin Adair crashed headon in a thick fog off Handkerchief Shoals early today. The stem bow and the anchor of the Munabro were carried away and a plate ripped from the freighter, but neither ship was in immediate danger.

A coast guard cutter was dispatched to aid the ships and other relief craft were ordered to stand by.

HUGHES' FRIENDS DO NOT WANT HIM MADE A "GOAT"

DEFEND HIM FROM CONGRES-SIONAL ATTACK ON WASH-INGTON CONFERENCE

LATTER RELATED TO POINTS ON NAVAL LIMITATION
TREATIES

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 17.—Secretary of State Hughes' friends today rallied to beat off attempts to make him a "goat" in the congressional attack on the Washington conference on naval limitation treaties.

Senator McKellar's charges that the American delegates, headed by Hughes, were "hoodwinked" and "out-traded" by the British brought out denials and explanations as follows:

1. If Hughes did not secure specific provisions in the treaties covering elevation of guns on American battleships the fault was with navy advisors, not Hughes, for the subject was not even brought up in the conference.
2. Congress is to blame if it has not appropriated sufficient money to keep the navy up to the 5-5-3 ratio.
3. The principal weaknesses of the navy, in auxiliary craft, which has caused so much talk, was not even touched by the treaty and hence is no fault of Hughes.

NORTHERN PACIFIC OPENS OFFICE AT SHANGHAI, CHINA

St. Paul, Jan. 17.—The Northern Pacific Railway today announced the establishment of a general agency at Shanghai, China.

The office will be for the purpose of supervising its freight and passenger traffic between the United States and China, Japan, the Philippine islands and other parts of the orient.

"The commercial activity of Japan is well known and reverses caused by the earthquake are but temporary," the road's statement said. "The resources of China and Siberia are unlimited and we expect rapid progress to be made in development of these resources as soon as the political atmosphere is cleared in China." It was stated at Northern Pacific headquarters.

The company also feels that the steady increase in manufacturing enterprise in the middle west will soon throw a larger portion of oriental trade through Pacific coast ports in connection with transcontinental rail lines than has been the case since the opening of the Panama canal.

The Northern Pacific selected for the purpose of looking after its business in the far east and fostering friendly relations with the orient, R. J. Tozer, who though still a young man, has had 25 years experience in various positions with both freight and passenger departments of the Northern Pacific and Burlington. Mr. Tozer was assistant general passenger agent at Chicago until receiving his appointment. He will sail for the orient Jan. 27.

BRITISH STEAMER HONG HWA PUTS BACK INTO PORT

ARRIVES AT HONG KONG, PAS-SENGERS PENNILESS, SAFE RIFLED

HOWEVER, THOSE ABOARD WERE OTHERWISE UN-HARMED

(By United Press)
Hong Kong, Jan. 17.—The British steamer Hong Hwa, which sailed three days ago for Singapore, put back into port here today with an amazing story of piracy on the high seas. All the vessel's passengers were penniless and the safe had been rifled, yet those aboard were otherwise unharmed.

Officers of the Hong Hwa reported that for three days the vessel had been in possession of Chinese pirates. The latter embarked with the rest of the passengers without exciting suspicion. When the steamer was a short way out the pirates gathered, rushed the bridge and overpowered the captain and crew.

A volley was fired during the attack on the bridge but none was hurt. The British officers were for the most part at breakfast and were surrounded and made prisoners.

DARING HOLDUP OF MAIL CAR IS SOLVED BY POLICE

(By United Press)
Lynnbrook, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The mystery of a daring holdup of a mail car of a Long Island train Tuesday night when $10,000 in currency was stolen was solved early today with the arrest of James J. Cadoo, 23, son of a wealthy retired lumberman.

Cadoo was at his home when confronted with the crime. After refusing to answer questions for a few minutes police say he confessed. All but $100 of the money was recovered.

GRAND JURY INDICTS TWO AS SLAYING GROCER

FRIZZELL AND CASEY CHARGED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Jan. 17.—Indictments charging first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Raymond Hasselberger in his grocery store here December 17 were returned late yesterday against Wylie Frizzell and Herbert Casey by the Ramsey county grand jury. They were also indicted for first degree robbery.

Indictments also were voted against Jack Rentz, Stanley Lindstrom and one other who is not yet arrested, known as the Hudson coach bandit, charging them with several holdups.

Arthur Anderson also was indicted, charged with first degree robbery.

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE

AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE

(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

HENRY GEORGE AND ANNIE FOX

IF EVER a man knew what the very dregs of poverty were that man was Henry George, the founder of the single tax. To what depths a man so intellectual and gifted as George was could be driven can be seen from the following entry in his diary, made at a time when he was living in San Francisco trying to make a living through printing jobs, and when his second child had just been born:

"I walked along the street and made up my mind to get money from the first man whose appearance might indicate that he had it to give. I stopped a man—a stranger—and told him that I wanted $5. He asked me what I wanted it for. I told him that my wife was confined and that I had nothing to give her to eat. He gave me the money. If he had not, I think I was desperate enough to kill him."

And the bravery of the young wife who had to stand this! To her great credit it is to be recorded that she bore her trials with cheerfulness and lived the life of a gypsy, with no complaint to make her husband's lot harder than it already was.

In this darkest moment of Henry George's life his wife was a beacon which upheld and guided him safely to the port of better times. And a note which he sent to his wife during this period shows how greatly he treasured her:

"Times seem pretty dull here but I think I can get along. Anyhow, we will try. I stayed at the 'What Cheer House' last night. My darling, I don't know how much I love you until I am separated from you. I don't believe I could live without you. And the dear little fellow—how I love him!"

Henry George was born in Philadelphia in 1829 and had a varied career until he came to his life-work. At fourteen he left school and worked for a time in a store. Then he shipped as a foremast boy on a ship bound for Australia. Returning to America he learned printing and the desire for traveling seized him again he went on a U. S. lightship and worked his way to California.

Hearing of gold being struck in Columbia, Canada, he turned his attention next to prospecting in that country but returned to California and engaged variously as a printer, reporter and editor in coast cities.

His journalistic success was meager because of his uncompromising stand against monopolies. From this period on, however, he began to develop his theories of the single tax and a well-paying position in the California state civil service being obtained for him, he had enough leisure to write his celebrated book, "Progress and Poverty," which brought him the recognition of the world as an economist.

George ran twice for mayor of New York city. The first time he was defeated and the second race, entered into against the advice of his doctor, resulted fatally for him. Already in a weakened condition, the campaign requirements proved too strenuous for him, and, only four days before the election he died.

Among the most famous of George's followers was the Russian writer and reformer, Tolstoy.

JAMES MADISON AND DOLLY MADISON

"A FEW hours have passed only since you left me, my beloved, and I find nothing can relieve the oppression of my mind but speaking to you in this, the only way. Dr. Physic called before you had gone far, but I could only find voice to tell him my knee felt better. Betsy Pemberton and Amy are sitting by me and seem to respect the grief they know I feel at even so short a separation from one who is all to me. I shall be better when Peter returns with news—not that any length of time could lessen my first regret, but an assurance that you are well and easy will contribute to make me so. . . . Betsy puts on your hat to divert me, but I cannot look at her. "Farewell until tomorrow, my best friend; think of thy wife who thinks and dreams of thee."

"DOLLY."
This endearing letter was written by the famous Dolly Madison to her husband, James Madison. Their separation was not very serious—he went to Washington while she remained for a short time in Philadelphia to cure a lame knee; but it was their first separation and they suffered out of proportion to the cause.
James Madison was Dolly's second husband. Dorothy Paine, granddaughter of John Paine, one of the early settlers in Virginia, had married a Pennsylvania lawyer named John Todd when she was nineteen. Two years later the yellow fever epidemic had made her a widow and in the following year she met and married James Madison, a match which gave great pleasure to President and Mrs. Washington, who took a fond interest in the couple. Dolly Madison was remarkable for her beauty, culture and social leadership, and her life with Madison, who became the third President of the United States, was idyllic and covered a happy period of 42 years.

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE
AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS
By JOSEPH KAYE
(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

WALT WHITMAN AND ANNE GILCHRIST

ANNE GILCHRIST was a passionate admirer of Walt Whitman, the poet and the man; she was free; she was the woman he admired above any other—yet they were fated to remain apart, for Walt Whitman had given his heart to another and it remained for that other's possession even after she had married some one else.
Mrs. Gilchrist was an English writer whose husband had died when she was thirty-three and left her with four children. Eight years later she read the newly published book of Whitman's first poems, "Leaves of Grass." It was a revelation to her and made her a devoted Whitman disciple.

Whitman was badly in need of such friends. His book, which he had set up with his own hands—he was a printer among other things—because he could not find a publisher for it, was universally abused and ridiculed. His unconventional metrical style and his freedom in discussing social and moral subjects both astonished and shocked readers and critics and a friendly word for his work was a holiday for the poet.

During the Civil war, Whitman had served as a volunteer nurse, and when it was over, he found he had ruined his health. Thereafter, he was partly an invalid in his home at Camden, N. J. Mrs. Gilchrist, to be near the man she loved in his affliction, came to America with her children and lived in Philadelphia and then in New York. Personal acquaintance caused no disillusionment and their platonic love continued as before.

Mrs. Gilchrist had to leave America to educate her daughter in Europe and Whitman never saw her again. She died in England in 1895.

The following is the third letter in the series Mrs. Gilchrist wrote to Whitman:

"I wrote you a letter of the 6th of September and would fain know whether it has reached your hand. If it has not I will write its contents again quickly to you—if it has I will await your time with courage and with patience for an answer; but spare me the needless suffering of uncertainty on this point and let me have one line, one word of assurance that I am no longer hidden from you by a thick cloud—I from thee, thou from me; for I have never set eyes upon thee. All the Atlantic flowing between us, yet cleave closer than those that stand nearest around thee—love the day and night—last thoughts, first thoughts, my soul's passionate yearning toward thy divine soul, every hour, every deed and thought—my love for my children, my hopes, my aspirations for them, all taking new shape, new height, through this great love. My soul has staked all upon it. In dull, dark moods when I cannot, as it were, see thee, still, still always a dumb, blind yearning toward thee—still it comforts me to touch, to press to me the beloved books—like a child holding some hand in the dark—it knows not whose—but knows it enough—knows it is a dear, strong, comforting hand. Do not say I am forward, or that I lack pride because I tell this love to thee who never have sought or made a sign of desiring to seek me. Oh, for all that, this love is my pride, my glory. . . ."

MRS. PARAMOR

Louis B. Mayer presents
The Robert G. Vignola Production
MARRIED FLIRTS

Adapted by Julia Crawford Ivers from the fascinating novel, "Mrs. Paramor," by Louis Joseph Vance. With Pauline Frederick, Conrad Nagel, Mae Busch and Huntly Gordon in the cast.

Metro-Goldwyn Pictures

ED DUTTON & CO.

NOTE! The "New" Metro-Goldwyn Pictures are the Talk of the entire country. Here's what Los Angeles Critics said of "Married Flirts" on Dec. 27th:

"Married Flirts"—Metro-Goldwyn, California Theatre, Los Angeles
Express: "Mr. Vignola's direction of this play stamps him as one of the best American directors, for he has imagination and what is more, uses it—a rare combination indeed."
Examiner: "Robert G. Vignola deserves credit for producing a drama which travels so smoothly that one becomes oblivious of time. Pauline Frederick's portrayal of a wife who becomes so absorbed in her career that she forgets to 'dress up' will probably send many women to the shops in search of becoming frocks. It's a splendid bit of acting."
Herald: "Miss Frederick, the master artist of emotion, rises to new heights in the role of Mrs. Paramor, a woman whose career is directly responsible for the losing of her husband, but who proves bigger than anything that can happen to her."
Record: "The motto of the licensed flirts is: 'If a wife can't hold her husband, she deserves to lose him!' Pauline Frederick is in a class by herself. There are certain Frederick mannerisms which entertain to the utmost. Mae Busch gives an excellent portrayal of the modern beautiful and dumb, smart-cracking flapper-wife. Huntly Gordon is an accomplished actor."
Times: "One looks for a trite situation and finds novelty in 'Married Flirts.' The featured role brings Pauline Frederick in one of her all too infrequent appearances."

MRS. PARAMOR

LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

Louis B. Mayer presents

The Robert G. Vignola Production

MARRIED FLIRTS

Metro-Goldwyn Pictures

Adapted by Julia Crawford Livers from the fascinating novel, "Mrs. Paramor," by Louis Joseph Vance. With Pauline Frederick, Conrad Nagel, Mae Busch and Huntly Gordon in the cast.

NOTE! The "New" Metro-Goldwyn Pictures are the Talk of the entire country. Here's what Los Angeles Critics said of "Married Flirts" on Dec. 27th:

"Married Flirts"—Metro-Goldwyn, California Theatre, Los Angeles

Express: "Mr. Vignola's direction of this play stamps him as one of the best American directors, for he has imagination and what is more, uses it—a rare combination indeed."

Examiner: "Robert G. Vignola deserves credit for producing a drama which travels so smoothly that one becomes oblivious of time. Pauline Frederick's portrayal of a wife who becomes so absorbed in her career that she forgets to 'dress up' will probably send many women to the shops in search of becoming frocks. It's a splendid bit of acting."

Herald: "Miss Frederick, the master artist of emotion, rises to new heights in the role of Mrs. Paramor, a woman whose career is directly responsible for the losing of her husband, but who proves bigger than anything that can happen to her."

Record: "The motto of the licensed flirts is: 'If a wife can't hold her husband, she deserves to lose him!' Pauline Frederick is in a class by herself. There are certain Frederick mannerisms which entertain to the utmost. Mae Busch gives an excellent portrayal of the modern beautiful and dumb, smart-cracking flapper-wife. Huntly Gordon is an accomplished actor."

Times: "One looks for a trite situation and finds novelty in 'Married Flirts.' The featured role brings Pauline Frederick in one of her all too infrequent appearances."

A DESTRUCTIVE ATTACK

At a public meeting held recently and at which a subject on the program was being discussed, two speakers transgressed the law governing such discussions and launched a bitter, unwarranted attack upon one of Brainerd's most capable and faithful public officials.

There were no specific charges made. Simply the acts of this official were not in accord with the thoughts of those making the attack and yet no one serving in an official capacity, in our city, enjoys a greater confidence nor has any other official rendered a greater service than the one attacked. That his views do not meet with the approval of every one down to the last citizen is but common with the fact that no public question is universally viewed the same by all. However, this official has always received a most complimentary vote of his constituents and clearly represents the vast majority, not only of his ward, but of the city.

The destructiveness of such criticism will be evidenced in the coming municipal election to be held in April. The city council will have six members to be elected; five for a four-year term and one for a two-year term. The school board has practically the same number to be elected. A mayor too will be elected. These are honorary positions and it is very difficult to secure citizens who are capable to take the positions. It is not because they do not want to render the city a service, but the excuse mostly given is that, after giving their best, they receive so much unwarranted criticism by those who have not studied the problems they face but who count themselves worthy to criticize upon a superficial knowledge of the situation.

When an official has seemingly misrepresented his constituents he is open to criticism, but the official should be given an opportunity to explain his position, before harsh criticism is made. But such general criticism as is so commonly launched at our public officials is destructive in character and should be resented by every good citizen.

No official can please all; but when he is honest and has accomplished great good a difference in opinion as to policy is not a reason for harsh criticism. Praising officials for good work will secure more capable men in our public offices.

THE FLYING FINN

NEVER in the history of running has a champion been unearthed like Paavo Nurmi, the flying Finn. He runs flatfooted and erect, breaking all running ethics in America, where athletes have been taught to run on their toes and leaning slightly forward.

Nurmi has brought the science of running down to such methodical methods that he maps out a race like an engineer driving a train. He carries his watch and times himself accordingly. Time and distance cut no figure with him.

A board track, never before raced on by him, presents no difficulties. Indoor air is swallowed with as much zest as outdoor ozone. Willie Ritola appears just like a switch light on the road when Nurmi pounds by at express train speed.

As stated by Farrell, United Press sports editor, Nurmi's competitors will have to take to bicycles to be within hailing distance at the finish. Just now the Finn is riding from one end of the continent to the other, here in the western world, smashing records, grabbing titles, with the pleasing facility of a baby pudding away in a world of jam and cookies.

In the New York recent race he lapped his opponent. In Chicago last night he finished about a Brainerd block ahead of Joie Ray, the Chicago speed marvel. Before his 3,000 meter race in New York the Finn ate a big red apple, something which would have foundered an American runner.

To make his record at Chicago last night, the Finn had to travel by train, have his first experience sleeping in a Pullman, run his race, grab a hasty shower bath, bump over Adams street in a taxi and on to the Illinois Central depot, and catch the 11 p. m. train back to New York, where he is now preparing for another big race in the East.

It is said he first showed his speed in the Finnish army, where in a regular drill with a company, he ran 15 miles with 50 pounds of equipment, arrived at the designated point, and was securely entrenched and ready for battle in his rifle pit before the rest of the army showed up panting and out of breath on the nearest hilltop.

WHAT HOOVER HAS BEEN DOING

THE department of commerce seems to be a vague institution when people do not know the extent of its activities. One of the greatest pieces of work carried on under the direction of its department chief, Herbert Hoover, has been the division of simplified practice. Simplification has reduced greatly the number of different kinds of tools and furnishings and other equipment in ordinary use so much that manufacturers believe and are confident that their estimates are correct, that it saves many millions of dollars to producers and customers. This simplification is part of the war which the department of commerce is waging against waste.

Secretary Hoover established the division of simplified practice some time in 1921 and it is continuing its good work of simplifying things people use. Here is some of the good that has been accomplished:

In 1921 there were 49 different styles of milk bottles in the United States. Now there are only nine.

In 1921 there were 78 sizes of blankets for beds. These have now been reduced to but 12.

In 1921 there were 1,500 kinds of nuts and bolts used on farm machinery. Now there are 840 kinds.

In 1921 there were 111 sizes of hospital beds. Now there is only one.

In 1921 there were 44 sizes of common brick. Now there is just one.

In 1921 there were 78 sizes of beds, mattresses and springs. Nowadays there are but four.

This is just a small recital of some of the achievements of this division. It is a wonderful work and must at all costs be continued. It is the sort of work which is of benefit to all the people, to the manufacturers as well as the users of goods. It cuts out waste, saves money, time and effort.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON SAVING AND INVESTING

Aunt Emmy and Maud were talking about saving money.

"What does a savings bank do with the money people put in it, Aunt Emmy?" inquired Maud.

"It is invested in sound mortgages, perhaps, or government and corporation securities. You see, the men who run savings banks are trained financiers. They know what securities are good and what are questionable, so they invest the bank's funds—that is, the money they receive from their depositors—in the best securities in such a way that they will be able to pay you interest on your deposits and be able to return your money to you when you want it. In order to do that they must invest in securities that pay a higher rate of interest than they give you to cover the bank expenses and set aside a surplus against emergencies."

"But, Aunt, if the banks invest our money, why can't we invest it ourselves?"

"We could if we knew as much about investments as the bank does. Bankers are not likely to make the mistakes made by the ordinary person. They are not deceived by impressive looking stock certificates, plausible letters from brokers or charming voices over the telephone urging them to buy this or that. Your banker is a hard-headed business man who investigates thoroughly before he invests the bank's money. For this reason many conservative persons prefer to keep their savings in a savings bank, knowing that their money is in wise hands and that even though the rate of interest they get may be moderate their money is far safer than it would be if it were invested less skillfully."

"Surely, though, it must be possible to get more than 4 per cent on your money and yet be safe," Maud said.

"It is under certain conditions," Aunt Emmy agreed. "The trouble is that so few people are frank about their money matters with men who really can be trusted for advice. They would rather take the advice of a glib stock salesman. No matter how small a sum a person is thinking of investing, advice should be sought from a trust company or bank. Women especially don't seem to realize this."

"The savings bank is always safe. It is a good plan to keep putting money in the savings bank until you have a good sum. Then withdraw part and invest it in some security paying a higher rate of interest. But be sure to seek good advice before you buy. In this way you can always have some cash on hand in the bank, yet gradually convert most of your savings into high grade securities."—ANNE B. AYMES.

THE BURDEN OF GOVERNMENT

The financial burden of government has become increasingly heavy in recent years. It has, at times, reached the point of oppression. The Federal tax of 1920 aggregated more than five and one-half billion dollars. This year, after strenuous efforts to reduce the war-time peak, the total still exceeds three billion dollars—a sum far greater than the entire burden of funded debt accumulated as a result of the Civil War. State and local taxes have increased at an even greater rate. Taxation has become more than a problem; it is a threat of impending disaster.

Nor is the burden of government limited to taxation. We are oppressed by a multiplicity of restrictive laws and administrative regulations. It is estimated that there are over two million laws and ordinances in the records of nation, states and municipalities. One adult person out of every twenty engaged in business or industry is a government official, agent or employee.

In the face of this record, despite the general recognition of the overwhelming burden of government, we find ourselves constantly waging a defensive battle against plans and programs which would transfer still greater duties to government, which would hamper individual initiative still further, which will—if put into practice—crush individual ambition and destroy individual opportunity.

Under these circumstances it is our right—it is our duty—to affirm and defend sound principles of political faith as we have, on other occasions, supported sound principles of economic progress. The Constitution of the United States has stood for 135 years as the bulwark of our individual and our collective liberties. The Constitution has been and is now the greatest existing restraint upon arrogant majority. It has been and is now the greatest existing defense of the very minorities which, at this time, are being led to denounce its restrictions.

One of our greatest needs is to repel the attacks now being made upon the integrity of this charter of our freedom. We should—we must—oppose vigorously all efforts to give Congress the power to override decisions of the Supreme Court—and thereby destroy the division of governmental power which is the inherent strength of our constitutional system.—Walter W. Head, American Bankers Association.

WOMAN'S COURAGE
FOILS BANDITS

Grapples With Armed Robbers
Who Attempt to Hold Up
Her Bank.

UNARMED, WINS LONG FIGHT

One Bandit Killed and Other
Wounded When Men Come to
Rescue—Story Told at National Meeting of Bankers.

When the wave of crime against banks, which has reached unprecedented proportions, was under discussion at the recent meeting of the American Bankers Association at Chicago, and defense measures were up for consideration, the bankers were told how one resolute woman defended herself against two armed desperadoes in her little Western bank. The woman was Mrs. Mary Garlinghouse, cashier of the State Bank of Vera, Oklahoma, which she conducts single-handed. Her own story, as she told it in a report to the protective authorities of the Association, follows:

"While I was posting my ledger, with my back to the door, I heard a commotion. When I turned around there were two men back of the counter, with handkerchiefs over their faces. The larger made a jump for my gun, before I realized what was happening. The robbers each had a gun pointed at me, and one said, 'Lay down or I will shoot you!' I said, 'I will not lay down and you will not shoot me.' This conversation was repeated several times. I told them to cut out their foolishness."

"A man who was in the corridor when the bandits came laid down on the floor, face down. I tried to argue with the robbers and they began to get rough, but something within me seemed to realize that they were getting confused. I kept thinking that some one would come in or see us."

"The larger man got busy with the money, while the smaller one took care of me. He jerked me to my knees and hit me over the head. This jolted my glasses and I lifted my hand, waving it in front of his face and telling him to wait a minute. I took my glasses off and put them on the table. Lifting my hand caused this man to look up and he saw we were observed from across the street. Then he saw Constable Mosby, with his gun, and said to the man who was gathering the money, 'Don, we are seen, we must make our getaway!' He then grabbed me rather roughly and said: 'Come on here! You are coming along!'"

Struggles With Robber

"Here is where our struggle began. All the time we fought over his gun, I did not try to take it away from him, but kept moving it from one side to the other, and of course he was determined to point it straight at me. I told him, 'I will not go and I am not afraid of you. You will not shoot me!'"

"We fought to the back door of the bank. When we got there, he raised his arm to fire at Mosby. I grabbed him around the neck, and he fired before I could get his hand. I am positive that this man was never hugged so tightly, nor ever will be, as I hugged him, realizing that I must fight for my life. The man tried his level best to kill me. What the other man was doing I do not know. My man was trying to pull me out the back door to their car, which was still running. I was determined he should not. 'R. C. Lapsley, the mayor, or Ed Mosby shot the man in the arm. There was a jerk and out the door we went. Things were coming my way now. I pulled the robber into the weeds, half on his back and half on his left side."

"The robber finally said, 'I will give up.' I said, 'Give me your gun.' He answered, 'I will not; I know you will shoot me.' So the struggle kept on. We got back on our feet. I meant to have his gun and would fight him until I got it. We fought through the back room behind the counter. He begged me not to take him, and I asked him again for his gun and he said, 'No, I know you will shoot me.' We struggled through the front door and then Constable Mosby said, 'Drop your gun or I will shoot you.' The bandit gave up and the men took charge of him."

One Bandit Killed

"I wondered about the other bandit and started to look for him and found him in the closet in the back of the bank dying. R. C. Lapsley told me afterwards that when the bandit and I lurched through the back door the larger man, with his gun in his right hand and the sack of money in his left, stepped up to the door. They both fired at once. The robber dropped his gun and the money, but they could not see what became of him."

"If all towns had as brave men as we have here, bank robbing would be a thing of the past. You can understand the remarkable marksmanship that was displayed, when I tell you that in our struggle at the back of the bank the men took several shots at the robber, but were very careful not to hit me. The robber got a shot in his right arm and a glancing shot in his left."

"All during the shooting and fighting, I felt confident I would get the best of my man. I felt that the man would not shoot me, and like all Western women I'd not lose my nerve. Bank robbers as a rule, are cowards and if one shows that he is not afraid of them they will lose their nerve."

HOW GREAT MEN
MAKE LOVE
AS REVEALED BY THEIR
LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE

(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
MICHELANGELO AND VITTORIA COLONNA

UNTIL almost his allotted three score years and ten had passed Michelangelo held aloof from the intimate society of women. His was a lofty genius and few women could climb up to his pinnacle. Or perhaps he did not let them.

At sixty-three he met Vittoria Colonna and from then on until he died he worshipped her. Colonna was the widow of the marquis of Pescara and lived in magnificent state in a palace on a bewitching island called Ischia. She adored her husband and when he died he left a void in her heart which was so deep that only a man of the intellect and genius of a Michelangelo could fill.

Below is one of the poetical addresses the artist made to his ideal:

Better plea,
Love cannot have than that, in loving thee,
Glorify that eternal peace is paid,
Who such a divinity to thee imparts
As hallows and makes fine all gentle hearts.
His hope is treacherous only whose love dies
With beauty which is varying every hour.
But in chaste hearts, uninfluenced by the power
Of outward changes, there blooms a deathless flower
That breathes on earth the air of Paradise.
Michelangelo painted only two portraits in his life. One of these was of Vittoria Colonna. The portrait shows the features of a woman possessing more intellectual power than beauty.

Who Attempt to Hold Up
Her Bank.

UNARMED, WINS LONG FIGHT

One Bandit Killed and Other
Wounded When Men Come to
Rescue—Story Told at National Meeting of Bankers.

When the wave of crime against banks, which has reached unprecedented proportions, was under discussion at the recent meeting of the American Bankers Association at Chicago, and defense measures were up for consideration, the bankers were told how one resolute woman defended herself against two armed desperadoes in her little Western bank. The woman was Mrs. Mary Garlinghouse, cashier of the State Bank of Vera, Oklahoma, which she conducts single-handed. Her own story, as she told it in a report to the protective authorities of the Association, follows:

"While I was posting my ledger, with my back to the door, I heard a commotion. When I turned around there were two men back of the counter, with handkerchiefs over their faces. The larger made a jump for my gun, before I realized what was happening. The robbers each had a gun pointed at me, and one said, 'Lay down or I will shoot you!' I said, 'I will not lay down and you will not shoot me.' This conversation was repeated several times. I told them to cut out their foolishness."

"A man who was in the corridor when the bandits came laid down on the floor, face down. I tried to argue with the robbers and they began to get rough, but something within me seemed to realize that they were getting confused. I kept thinking that some one would come in or see us."

"The larger man got busy with the money, while the smaller one took care of me. He jerked me to my knees and hit me over the head. This jolted my glasses and I lifted my hand, waving it in front of his face and telling him to wait a minute. I took my glasses off and put them on the table. Lifting my hand caused this man to look up and he saw we were observed from across the street. Then he saw Constable Mosby, with his gun, and said to the man who was gathering the money, 'Don, we are seen, we must make our getaway!' He then grabbed me rather roughly and said: 'Come on here! You are coming along!'"

Struggles With Robber

"Here is where our struggle began. All the time we fought over his gun. I did not try to take it away from him, but kept moving it from one side to the other, and of course he was determined to point it straight at me. I told him, 'I will not go and I am not afraid of you. You will not shoot me!'"

"We fought to the back door of the bank. When we got there, he raised his arm to fire at Mosby. I grabbed him around the neck, and he fired before I could get his hand. I am positive that this man was never hugged so tightly, nor ever will be, as I hugged him, realizing that I must fight for my life. The man tried his level best to kill me. What the other man was doing I do not know. My man was trying to pull me out the back door to their car, which was still running. I was determined he should not."

"R. C. Lapsley, the mayor, or Ed Mosby shot the man in the arm. There was a jerk and out the door we went. Things were coming my way now. I pulled the robber into the weeds, half on his back and half on his left side."

"The robber finally said, 'I will give up,' I said, 'Give me your gun.' He answered, 'I will not; I know you will shoot me.' So the struggle kept on. We got back on our feet. I meant to have his gun and would fight him until I got it. We fought through the back room behind the counter. He begged me not to take him, and I asked him again for his gun and he said, 'No, I know you will shoot me.' We struggled through the front door and then Constable Mosby said, 'Drop your gun or I will shoot you.' The bandit gave up and the men took charge of him."

One Bandit Killed

"I wondered about the other bandit and started to look for him and found him in the closet in the back of the bank dying. R. C. Lapsley told me afterwards that when the bandit and I lurched through the back door the larger man, with his gun in his right hand and the sack of money in his left, stepped up to the door. They both fired at once. The robber dropped his gun and the money, but they could not see what became of him."

"If all towns had as brave men as we have here, bank robbing would be a thing of the past. You can understand the remarkable marksmanship that was displayed, when I tell you that in our struggle at the back of the bank the man took several shots at the robber, but were very careful not to hit me. The robber got a shot in his right arm and a glancing shot in his left."

"All during the shooting and fighting, I felt confident I would get the best of my man. I felt that the man would not shoot me, and like all Western women I did not lose my nerve. Bank robbers as a rule, are cowards and if you show that he is not afraid of them they will lose their nerve."

HOW GREAT MEN

LOVE LETTERS

MICHELANGELO AND VITTORIA COLONNA

UNTIL almost his allotted three score years and ten had passed Michelangelo held aloof from the intimate society of women. His was a lofty genius and few women could climb up to his pinnacle. Or perhaps he did not let them.

At sixty-three he met Vittoria Colonna and from then on until he died he worshipped her. Colonna was the widow of the marquis of Pescara and lived in magnificent state in a palace on a bewitching island called Ischia. She adored her husband and when he died he left a void in her heart which was so deep that only a man of the intellect and genius of a Michelangelo could fill.

Below is one of the poetical addresses the artist made to his ideal: Better plea, Love cannot have than that, in loving thee, Glory to that eternal peace is paid. Who such a divinity to thee imparts As hallow and makes fine all gentle hearts. His hope is treacherous only whose love dies With beauty which is varying every hour. But in chaste hearts, uninfluenced by the power Of outward changes, there blooms a deathless flower That breathes on earth the air of Paradise.

Michelangelo painted only two portraits in his life. One of these was of Vittoria Colonna. The portrait shows the features of a woman possessing more intellectual power than beauty.

DEMPSEY IN ONE MORE BIG FIGHT, REPORTED

WILL THEN GET MARRIED, RETIRE AND SETTLE DOWN

CHAMPION TO WED ESTELLE TAYLOR, A MOTION PICTURE STAR

(By United Press)
New York, Jan. 17.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, will engage in one more defense of his title before he marries, retires and settles down, according to Tex Rickard.

The champion's announcement that he would marry Estelle Taylor, motion picture actress, next June, brought a smile to the face of the famous New York promoter.

"I know that Dempsey is going to fight once more. After that I don't know," Rickard said.

BOTH PRINCIPALS CONFIRM REPORTS

Los Angeles, Jan. 17.—With Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor giving confirmation to reports that they will marry some time this summer, attention turned to conjecture as to what effect the marriage will have on the champion's fighting plans.

"It won't interfere a bit," said Jack Kearns, who professes to be entirely outside the picture when Dempsey's approaching nuptials are mentioned.

"We got together for a little while and talked over the summer program," Kearns said, "and you can put it in the book that Jack will fight twice this summer, once against Tom Gibbons and maybe the other will be Harry Willis."

"We won't start to actually get down to business on the deal until next month, but that's how it stands now."

Why Walter Johnson Wins Popular Favor

Here's why Walter Johnson is regarded as he is by players, managers, foes, fans, the whole world, says Bill Brandt in the Philadelphia Ledger.

Billy Evans, the prince of umpires, went to the Washington club house about two hours before the start of the grand finale. Billy had with him two brand-new American league baseballs. Friends of the umpire desired Johnson's name written on the horseshoe, as a memento of the greatest world series ever played.

Johnson was in uniform, but it wasn't yet time for practice. He was sitting on a trunk not saying much.

He looked up at Evans.

"Holy smoke!" he said slowly. "Billy, do you mean to say there are two persons who want my name on a baseball after the fine fiasco I have made out of myself this series? Well, if they want it, I'll sign. That's one thing I'm good for. Writing my name!"

LEONARD IS ABOUT READY TO RETIRE

To Vacate Throne Without Another Defending Fight.

Benny Leonard is about ready to announce his retirement as a lightweight. It is not improbable that he will follow the lead of Johnny Dundee, recently retired feather king, and vacate the throne without another defending contest.

Leonard has always been heavy, and is not getting any lighter. Leonard could have made the weight this summer if a legitimate challenger had been developed. He had gone through a long siege of training and was on a simple diet.

Leonard had hopes Luis Vicentini, the Chilean, would come through fast enough to qualify for a championship test. Vicentini, hardest hitter among the challengers, had the stuff but frittered away his chances in Broadway cafes.

One by one the other contenders faded into obscurity until presently none were left with the slightest claim to distinction as a lightweight challenger. Leonard then arranged a bout with Micky Walker for the welterweight title. This did not come off, due to an injured thumb sustained by Leonard.

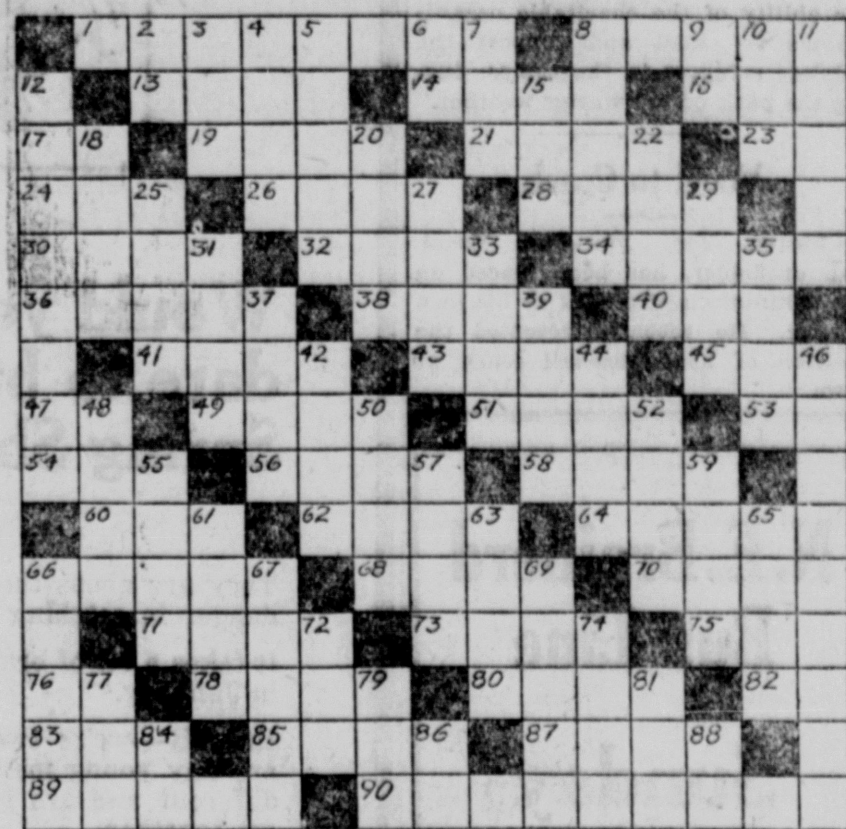

This bout will not be held until next summer. It will be an open air attraction with Tex Rickard doing the promoting. If Leonard wins he will continue as a welterweight champion. Otherwise he will hang up the mittens for good.

Leonard promises to be the second lightweight champion to retire undefeated. Jack McAuliffe, old-timer, was the other.

Leonard's retirement will be due to

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE

AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE

(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
GEN. ROBERT E. LEE AND MARY PARK CUSTIS

NOT a love letter is this, in the sense of burning and passionate phrases. But the letter of a man whose heart is filled with love at all times, who needs no sudden emotion to kindle a new spurt of flame for the woman who fills his life, and the home circle she has created for him.

This letter was written by General Lee, commander in chief of the Confederate armies, to his wife, who was Mary Park Custis, great-granddaughter of Martha Washington.

"... You do not know how much I have missed you and the dear children, my dear Mary. To be alone in a crowd is very solitary. In the woods I feel sympathy for the trees and the birds in whose company I take delight, but experience no pleasure in a strange crowd."

"I hope you are all well and will continue so, and I must again urge you to be very prudent and careful of those children. If I could only get a squeeze at that little fellow turning up his sweet mouth to 'keese baba!' You must not let him run wild in my absence and you will have to exercise firm authority over all of them. This will not require severity or even strictness, but constant attention and an unwavering course. Mildness and forbearance will strengthen their affection for you, while it will maintain your control over them."

NURMI HAS NEW GEM IN RUNNING CROWN

CLIPS ONE-FIFTH SECOND OFF WORLD'S RECORD 1 3-4 MILE INDOORS

FINN SHATTERED HIS OWN RECORD MADE THE NIGHT BEFORE

(By United Press)
Chicago, Jan. 17.—With a new gem in his crown of world's greatest runner, Paavo Nurmi, the phenomenal Finn, was on his way back to New York today hoping for still more records when he steps on the boards at the 102nd Regiment armory in the Fordham games tonight. Nurmi clipped one-fifth of a second off the world's record for the 1 3-4 mile indoors here last night, negotiating the distance in 7 minutes 55 2-5 seconds.

It was his own record that he shattered, for just the night before he was clocked in New York in 7 minutes 55 3-5 seconds.

The marvelous flying Finn jumped from a crack railroad train that brought him here from New York just two hours before the race started. When it was over he rushed through a hasty shower, was taken away in a taxicab and just caught a 11 p. m. train back to New York.

Nurmi was opposed in the race by Joie Ray, Chicago speed marvel, holder of most of the records now being shattered by the Finn. But in reality Nurmi was running only against time, for Ray was completely outclassed, finishing 70 yards behind.

Turn Batters Prefer To Hit Left-Handed

New York, Jan. 17.—In the major leagues there are a very limited number of players who bat equally well right or left-handed.

Batters of this type are much more in evidence in the National than in the American. Among them being Frankie Frisch, Max Carey, Walter Holke, Dave Bancroft and others.

In the American league, Lar Blue, first baseman of the Detroit Tigers, and Catcher Wally Schang of the New York Yankees are the two outstanding players who shift to either side of the plate.

The elder Rockefeller does not allow advancing years to interfere with his golf. He believes that his daily round of eight or nine holes is one of the biggest factors in conserving his health. This photograph was made recently while he was playing on the links at Ormond Beach, Fla.

It is an interesting fact that every one of the players who hit either way much prefers to hit from the left side of the plate.

Gold Footballs Are Given To Stanford Gridders

Stanford University, Calif., Jan. 17.—The students' executive committee at its meeting voted 23 members of the varsity football squad gold footballs and the Stanford "S."

This was the first time in seven years at Stanford that the gold emblems had been awarded for football.

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE

AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE

(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

HARRIET BEECHER AND PROFESSOR STOWE

IN 1872, when Harriet Beecher Stowe was sixty-one, famous, honored and beloved as the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," she wrote this letter to her husband, Professor Stowe, between stops of a lecture tour:

"... Well, dear old man, I think lots of you and only want to end all this in a quiet home where we can sing 'John Anderson, My Joe,' together. I check off place after place as the captive days of his imprisonment. Only two more after tonight. Ever your loving wife."

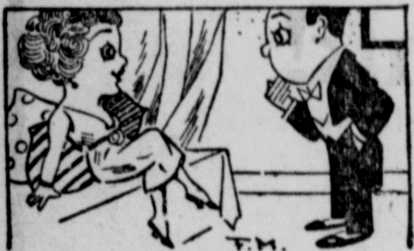

And then again:
"The loneliness of being at a hotel in dull weather is one of the disagreeables and in Portland it seems there is no one now to invite us to their homes. Our old friends there are among the past. They have gone on over the river. I send you a bit of poetry that pleases me. The love of the old for each other has its poetry. It is something sacred and full of riches. I long to be with you and to have some of our good long talks."

"The Lord bless and keep you. It grieves me to think you are dull and I not with you. Bye and bye we will be together and stay together. Good-bye, dear."

Burning love letters are not at all rare when love is young but the charming and tender phrases exchanged by an old couple after most of their life's span has been lived are met with only at long intervals, and when they are found, they are more fascinating than the fond outbursts of vigorous youth.

Among the letters of Mrs. Stowe to her husband, there are many that are less pleasant to read than the excerpts quoted above. One letter, which shows the remarkable fortitude and divine inspiration which actuated Mrs. Stowe, is one in which she breaks the news of her child's death. It is one of the most pathetic passages that can be found in the whole range of literature.

"My dear husband: At last it is over and our dear little one is gone from us. He is now among the blessed. My Charlie—my beautiful, loving, glad, so loving, so sweet, so full of life and hope and strength now lies shrouded, pale and cold, in the room below. Never was he anything to me but a comfort. He has been my pride and joy. Many a heartache has he cured for me. Many an anxious night have I held him on my bosom and felt the sorrow and loneliness pass out of me with the touch of his little warm hands. Yet I have just seen him in his death agony, looked on his imploring face when I could not help nor soothe nor do one thing, not one, to mitigate his cruel suffering, do nothing but pray, in my anguish, that he might die soon."

HAD HIM THERE

He—It is said that a man's brain is bigger than a woman's.
She—Well, the same thing is true about his feet, but they are no more serviceable than a woman's.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTION

The Girl—I want you to help me to make Tom jealous—awfully, wildly jealous.
The Man—Er-let's get married.

FRANKNESS

What do you know of international affairs?
Nothing, but that doesn't keep me from discussing them as though I knew all about them.

TAKING NO CHANCES

Ever ask a girl to marry you?
Never. Afraid she'd refuse you?
No, afraid she wouldn't.

Most Divorces Given to Women
Divorce statistics compiled in several states show that four-fifths of the divorce decrees are issued to women.

This would lead one to believe that men are to blame for the so-called divorce evil. Most women when suing for divorce make a simple charge of desertion, which is often a compromise charge to which the husband has consented.

At any rate, the man leaves home, the wife sues, obtains her decree and the general public rarely knows why he left.

John M. Stahl, who is a student of psychology and a very close observer of human nature, has directed a picture which may throw some light on the present day divorce epidemic. It is called "Why Men Leave Home" and is adapted by A. P. Younger from Avery Hopwood's stage play of the same name. As a Louis B. Mayer presentation through First National, it will be shown at the New Park tonight and Sunday.

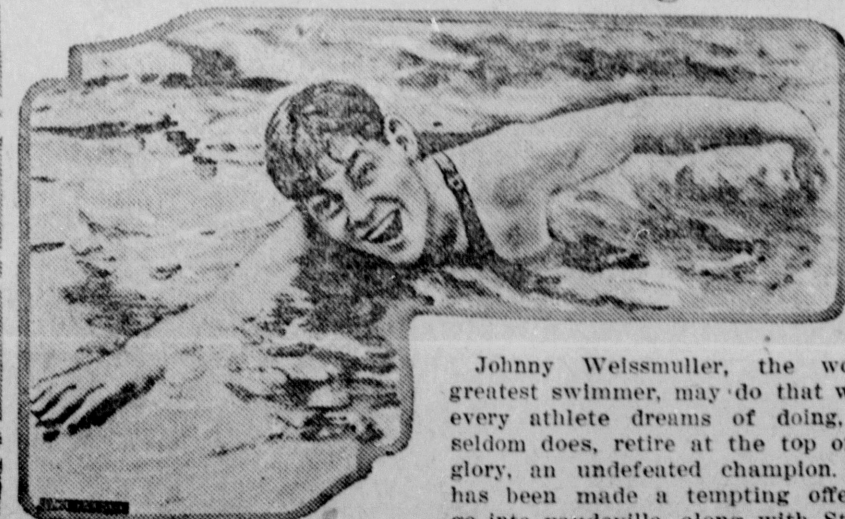

Louis Joseph Vance's Famous Novel "Mrs. Paramor" at Lyceum Sunday

"Married Flirts," Metro-Goldwyn's picturization of "Mrs. Paramor," Louis Joseph Vance's novel, which was recently published, is the feature at the Lyceum Theatre Sunday and Monday. It is the first production for this company by Robert G. Vignola, director of "When Knighthood Was in Flower," "Yolanda," and other successes.

Mr. Vignola, early in his motion picture career, directed Pauline Frederick in a series of pictures, and when he read the Vance novel he decided to film it with Miss Frederick in the title role, feeling there was no one so well equipped as she to play a part that requires such a wealth of emotional and dramatic power. Miss Frederick was delighted to create the role, and so a former screen combination was once more renewed.

WINTER SUFFERING AMONG CHILDREN OF THE NEAR EAST

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Winter suffering among the children of the refugee camps in Greece and Armenia brought to Chicago this week a conference of religious and philanthropic leaders from fourteen mid-Western states, to consider the possibility of providing the Near East Relief with funds for a large number of soup-kitchens to meet this special emergency.

Delegates from Ohio offered to open special subscriptions through 200 local committees, and the Indiana representatives pledged themselves to supply within ten days funds for feeding 2,000 children.

Other states represented at the Chicago meeting included Missouri, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Kentucky, Nebraska, Kansas, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Latest reports on the situation in the Greek refugee camps were submitted by Gordon Bery of Geneva, Switzerland, who visited Greece a few weeks ago as the representative of a commission of the League of Nations. Charles V. Vickrey of New York, general secretary of the Near East Relief, said that his organization would administer all funds for refugee relief without charge.

Another speaker was Captain Frank M. America of Buffalo, N. Y., an American newspaper correspondent just returned from Greece, who said that a fund of moderate amount would save the lives of many thousand children at this time. "It is a critical period in the whole refugee situation," he declared. "The entire problem of reconstruction in Greece depends for its solution on the ability of the charitable organizations to assist and support the helpless refugees in the camps, during the peak of the winter weather."

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

BIBLE CONFERENCE IS TO CONTINUE

Rev. Fyles of Gospel Assembly Makes Announcement to Friends of Service

FURTHER BIBLE STUDY

Evangelist Holzer Leaves for Engagement at Evansville, Indiana

The Holzer Interdenominational Bible Conference meeting has created in the minds and hearts of many people in Brainerd a real spiritual hunger to know more of the word of God and Christ's plan of salvation. So manifest is that spirit of inquiry into the spiritual life that Rev. Fyles has been prevailed upon to continue the meetings where Evangelist Holzer had to leave the work as he is on his way to Evansville, Indiana, where his next Bible conference is scheduled.

Pastor Fyles will continue to carry on the conference on the interdenominational platform in order to be of service to all who desire to learn more about the Bible and its more hidden meaning. Pastor Fyles belonged to the Presbyterian church in which church he preached for many years, but was providentially called, so he states, to head the Full Gospel church, on Kindred street, some many months ago.

Pastor Fyles appreciates the fraternal spirit manifested by the ministerial fraternity in the Holzer Bible conference and the hearty fellowship of believers from among all the churches. He also stated last night at the Methodist church that a large measure of credit for the success of the Bible conference must be attributed to the hearty and liberal support given the campaign by the Daily Dispatch.

"How Shall the Ark Come Back to Me?" David's question as he came to the throne, will be the subject of Rev. Fyles Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Every church member should hear this question explained.

"The Christians Power," will be his subject in the evening.

The farewell meeting last night was gratifying. A full house was on hand to hear Evangelist Holzer's last message on "The Jewish Passover in the Light of the Christian Communion." To say the impression was profound, but mildly expresses it.

A picturesque Passover table as used in the time of Christ was on exhibition for demonstration and vividly portrayed Christ's upper room scene with his disciples at which time He celebrated and instituted the communion. A liberal thank offering was subscribed by cash and pledges to express to Rev. Holzer Brainerd's hearty appreciation for his work in our community. He devoted thank offerings for his Palestine Missionary efforts and he has left many hearty friends for himself behind.

Removing Tattoo Marks
Although tattoo marks generally are asserted to be indelible if produced by the insertion of some carbonaceous matter, it is said they will disappear if first well rubbed with a salve of pure acetic acid and lard, then with a solution of potash and finally with a solution of hydrochloric acid. It would be advisable to consult a skin specialist.

He Knocked the Tiger Flat
Little Tom and his father were calling on a big-game hunter, and Tom had been put on the floor to play with a tiger-skin rug. He interrupted his elders' conversation with so many questions that finally the hunter took him on his lap and told him about the tiger hunt. Tom returned to the rug examined it with renewed interest, and then inquired: "How did you shoot him so flat?"—Youth's Companion.

ELKS VISITED BY DISTRICT DEPUTY

Mel McDowell, Hibbing, Compliments Brainerd Lodge for Fine Ritualistic Work

12 CANDIDATES INITIATED

After Regular Session a Banquet And Social Hour Followed

Over one hundred Elks were present Thursday evening when the local lodge No. 615 met in gala session, with Mel McDowell of Hibbing, Lodge No. 1022 as guest of honor. Dr. A. K. Cohen, Exalted Ruler of Brainerd Lodge No. 615, presided.

Walter F. Wieland eulogized the life of Past Exalted Ruler Clifton A. Albright, who died Dec. 24th, 1924.

Twelve candidates were initiated by the officers of Brainerd Lodge, the District Deputy proclaiming it to have been put on better than by any team in Northern Minnesota in his jurisdiction.

Dr. S. S. Shannon of Crosby was elected Keeper of the Parchment, and was installed by Col. C. D. Johnson.

Mel McDowell spoke on the Safety First program of the Grand Lodge, the Selective Invitation campaign, and spoke at length on the Elks convention to be held in Brainerd this coming summer.

After the regular meeting a wonderful banquet was set up, with the social session continuing in full force. The lodge was entertained by the Elks quartet in several songs. John Holvick in humorous readings, "Red" Howard in his experiences in circus life, and Jimmy McGarry and Roland Jenkins in vocal solos. J. J. Nolan and J. J. Cummins had charge of the entertainment part of the program.

During the evening those present were entertained with reminiscences of early Elksdom by M. J. Reilly of Detroit, the fourth Exalted Ruler, and a charter member of the local lodge.

BRAINERD HIGH DEFEATS LITTLE FALLS

BASEBALL SCANDAL WON'T STAY IN GRAVE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 17.—Official baseball is still wearing a pained expression and registering a protest against abuse, when the Dolan-O'Connell scandal is dug out of the grave in which it has been placed carefully.

Although he promised during the world's series that the investigation into the case of the two members of the New York Giants, who were ordered out of baseball for offering a bribe to a Philadelphia player, would never be dropped, Commissioner Landis has given no indication publicly that he has done anything to clear up the scandal.

The attitude of official baseball toward a scandal which threatened the continuation of the world's series was shown clearly during the winter major league meetings, when not a word was given to the public about the scandal. Perhaps the case was discussed by the owners of the two big leagues, but that discussion, if any, was behind closed doors.

The only official action made public was a reprimand of Ban Johnson, president of the American League, who was the only prominent baseball man who had the courage to come out and express his opinions.

Johnson said that the world's series should have been called off when it was learned that Jimmy O'Connell had confessed that he had been prompted by Cozy Dolan, coach of the National League champions, to offer a bribe to Heinie Sand, the Philadelphia shortstop. Johnson refused to attend the series, even when the club of his best friend and most staunch supporter was representing the American League against the National League champions.

The American League president criticized the manner in which Commissioner Landis handled the investigation of the scandal and he got a nice slap in the face for violation of an agreement among the heads of the game that Landis never should be criticized publicly for anything that he had done or had failed to do.

The major league owners went on record as being opposed to Johnson and as being strongly behind Landis, and they went so far as to threaten Johnson with removal from office if he did not behave as a nice boy in the future.

If Johnson thinks more of his job than he does of any obligation he might have toward the public that supports baseball and contributes toward the revenue which makes possible a very nice salary for him, he will be a nice old fellow in the future and he will remain silent when the next scandal crops out. If Johnson keeps quiet all the scandals in the future will be buried promptly, as he has been the only one to declare himself.

RAINBOWS WIN OVER MOTLEY

HIGH 16 TO 9

BRAINERD TEAM OVERTOPPED IN SIZE DIMINUTIVE MOTLEY QUINT

RAINBOWS CONTENT TO PLAY EASY PASSING GAME IN FIRST HALF

The Rainbows journeyed to Motley last night and won their first victory of the season at the hands of the Motley high school, 16 to 9. The Brainerd players were like giants alongside the players of the Motley team, and were content merely to play an easy passing game in the first half. In the second half they settled down, and won hands down, not allowing their opponents a single basket from the field during this time. Joe Day counted most for the Rainbows, making five field goals. Storhaugen and Peters did all the scoring for Motley.

For the Rainbows, the lineup was Day and Hagberg, forwards; Jones, center, and Orth and Lowe, guards, with Fitzharris taking Hagberg's place during part of the game. For Motley, Storhaugen and Peters were forwards, Seely center, and LaVoy and Hoveland, guards. The score at the first half was 7 to 6 in Motley's favor.

Old Man Zbyszko Wins From Allen Eustace

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, the old man of the mat game, clashed with Allen Eustace of Kansas and took two out of three falls here last night. The pole won the first fall with an arm lock, lost the second on a jackknife, and came back to win the third with a flying mare.

COBB'S TROUBLE RIGHT NOW IS AT SECOND BASE

(Copyright, 1925, by United Press.)

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17.—Chances of the Detroit Tigers to win the 1925 American league pennant rest largely upon the ability of the venerable but spry Ty Cobb to find a youngster who can handle the keystone sack capably. Given a good second baseman and return to top form of "Toppers" Rigney, shortstop, Cobb believes his athletes will finish on top. When the squad assembles at Augusta, Ga., about the first of March infield problems will receive the most consideration.

Lue Blue has the call at first base, but Johnny Neun from St. Paul will be on hand in case Blue falters from injuries again this season. Taveny, Texas league shortstop, will be used as an understudy for Rigney. "Bohby" Jones and Fred Haney will alternate at the hot corner and there remains but second base to provide an occupant for. Del Pratt, veteran, has been released and Cobb, probably will concentrate on O'Rourke, a veteran of the minor leagues, and Burke a recruit from last year.

FINNISH TRACK STAR WILL COME TO U. S.

New York, Jan. 17.—Albin Stenroos, Finnish distance runner, winner of the Olympic marathon, will come to the United States expecting to compete in the Boston marathon race of April 19.

The Boston race is run on Patriots day, but as that falls on a Sunday this year, the race may be advanced or postponed one day.

Stenroos is 40 years of age, but finished the marathon race fairly fresh, although it was run under a blistering heat and the athlete dropped all along the route, many being taken to hospitals.

WONDERFUL GAME WON BY SCORE 13 TO 9

THIS IS FIFTH VICTORY FOR THE LOCALS THIS SEASON, WITH NO DEFEATS

The Brainerd high school basketball team continued its winning streak by winning from Little Falls at the local high school last night, 13 to 9. This is the fifth victory this season, with no defeats. The victims include Pequot, Staples, Bemidji, Crosby-Ironton and Little Falls. Last night's game was one of the fastest seen here for some time. The guarding of the teams was particularly close, as is indicated by the score.

As usual, the opponents set several of their best men to watch Captain Wally Engbretson, and after Whitlock entered the game, the major attention was centered on these two men. They were in the thick of the fight at all times, Engbretson especially eluding his guards enough to count four times from the field. The Brainerd team played more as a unit than they have since the Bemidji game, with every man deserving of praise. Opsahl played his best game during the time he was in. The guards, Dieckhaus and Tribur, took everything off the board, allowing Little Falls but few follow-ups. Avery mixed in with the team play in exceptional fashion, and caged a pretty one-handed goal from the side-lines. Fortier, captain, and Blair, diminutive forward, played the strongest game for Little Falls, they being responsible for every point made by the down-river men. Fortier is a smooth player, always in the game, and drawing applause for his fast work.

The line-ups: Brainerd: Engbretson, c. r. f. Avery l. f. Opsahl c. Dieckhaus r. g. Tribur l. g. Substitutes: Braiderd, Whitlock for Opsahl, Little Falls: Bastien for Blair, Blair for Bastien. Scoring: Brainerd, field goals, Engbretson 4, Avery 1, Dieckhaus 1. Free throws: Opsahl 1 out of 2, Tribur, none out of 1. Little Falls: field goals, Blair 1, Fortier 3. Free throws, Fortier, 1 out of 3, Hauser, none out of 1.

Referee: Adams of St. Cloud. The score by periods was as follows:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Brainerd	5	7	11	13
Little Falls	3	7	7	9

Next-Friday evening Brainerd and Aitkin high schools play at Brainerd.

Aitkin appears to be the unknown quantity in this district, and local fans will watch with interest the outcome of this game. In a preliminary game, the Brainerd Girls' team will meet the girls' team from Riverton.

PRELIMINARY GAME, L. F. 2ND TEAM, 13; BRD. 12

In the preliminary game the Brainerd second team met defeat at the hands of the Little Falls seconds, 13 to 12. At the half Brainerd led 7 to 2, and it looked like a victory, with every man doing his best in the team play. In the second half, however, Rosenberg was taken out for use in the big game if needed, and his loss weakened the offense of the Brainerd seconds. Although he did not score himself, it was his passing and intercepting that put the ball in position for scores time after time.

The tall center of the Falls team, Mrozik, made his height and reach serve his team to good purpose, and it was his wonderful work in the second half, coupled with that of Bolander, sub-forward, that brought victory to their team. This was an overtime game, the score at the end of the regular playing time being 10 to 10.

The line-ups were: Brainerd: Marshall r. f. Rosenberg l. f. Lyddon c. Lorenz r. g. Putz l. g. Substitutes: Mayo for Rosenberg, Koop for Lyddon, Lyddon for Koop, Gile for Putz, Koop for Lorenz, Bolander for Shwintek.

Scoring: field goals, Marshall 4, LaBlanc 1, Bolander 2, Mrozik 1. Free throws, Marshall 2 out of 4, Lorenz 1 out of 1, Lyddon none in one, Putz none in one, Gile 1 in 2, LaBlanc 2 in 3, Mrozik 2 in 6. Referee: Lester Peterson.

DELANEY STOPS TIGER FLOWERS

ONE PUNCH DISPOSED OF LATTER AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

(By United Press.) New York, Jan. 17.—Jack Delaney, a long skinny Frenchman from Bridgeport, Conn., who stopped the sensational ascent of Paul Berlenbach some time ago, turned out to be another sensation-killer when he stopped Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, with one punch in Madison Square Garden last night.

Early in the second round of a contest that was scheduled to go 12 rounds, Delaney landed a right-hand punch to Flowers' jaw and the Atlanta negro was out for several minutes.

Haugens in Ski Meet

Alfred Goulet, bicycle star, and his bride, the former Miss Jane L. Roney of Newark, N. J., left New York on their honeymoon trip two days after their marriage. They sailed on the Adriatic on a Mediterranean cruise. Goulet rode in the six-day race in New York this year although he was suffering from appendicitis. He was operated on successfully immediately after the race.

CROSBY DEFEATS WADENA HIGH BY SCORE 24-13

WADENA TEAM SEEMED LOST ON THE BIG FLOOR OF CROSBY HIGH SCHOOL

TEAM WORK WAS RAGGED AND SHOTS FAILED BY 10 FEET TO REACH BASKET

The Crosby-Ironton basketball team defeated the Wadena high school at Crosby last night, 24-13. The Wadena team seemed lost on the big floor, their team work was ragged, and their shots for the basket fell short about ten feet on each try. Accustomed to their own floor, small in comparison to the man-sized Crosby floor, they could not get started at their best pace.

The Crosby team had good team work, appearing flashy at times. The score at the half was 18 to 4 in Crosby-Ironton's favor, and during the second half, the home team played with their second string men. During this half Wadena out-scored Crosby, but could not overcome the heavy margin.

For Crosby-Ironton, Johnston and Westcott played right forward, Redosavich and Pomeroy left forward, Jellic and Bjorklund center, Raymond and Lefko right guard, and Darling left guard. The Wadena line-up was Krause right forward, Zosel and Young left forward, Jansen center, and Stevens and Jacobson guards. Field goals were made as follows: Johnston 3, Westcott 2, Redosavich 1, Jellic 1, Raymond 1, Darling 3, Young 3 and Stevens 1. Free throws made were by Jellic 2, Krause 3, Zosel 1 and Stevens 1. J. H. Bollens of Brainerd refereed.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Billy Sandow, manager of Wrestler Ed Lewis, conferred with lawyers on injunction proceedings to prevent Wayne (Big) Munn from using the title of world's heavyweight champion. Sandow holds that Munn fouled Lewis in the Kansas City match and has no claim to the title.

BRAINERD HIGH DEFEATS LITTLE FALLS

BASEBALL SCANDAL WON'T STAY IN GRAVE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 17.—Official baseball is still wearing a pained expression and registering a protest against abuse, when the Dolan-O'Connell scandal is dug out of the grave in which it has been placed carefully.

Although he promised during the world's series that the investigation into the case of the two members of the New York Giants, who were ordered out of baseball for offering a bribe to a Philadelphia player, would never be dropped, Commissioner Landis has given no indication publicly that he has done anything to clear up the scandal.

The attitude of official baseball toward a scandal which threatened the continuation of the world's series was shown clearly during the winter major league meetings, when not a word was given to the public about the scandal. Perhaps the case was discussed by the owners of the two big leagues, but that discussion, if any, was behind closed doors.

The only official action made public was a reprimand of Ban Johnson, president of the American League, who was the only prominent baseball man who had the courage to come out and express his opinions.

Johnson said that the world's series should have been called off when it was learned that Jimmy O'Connell had confessed that he had been prompted by Cozy Dolan, coach of the National League champions, to offer a bribe to Heinie Sand, the Philadelphia shortstop. Johnson refused to attend the series, even when the club of his best friend and most staunch supporter was representing the American League against the National League champions.

The American League president criticized the manner in which Commissioner Landis handled the investigation of the scandal and he got a nice slap in the face for violation of an agreement among the heads of the game that Landis never should be criticized publicly for anything that he had done or had failed to do.

The major league owners went on record as being opposed to Johnson and as being strongly behind Landis, and they went so far as to threaten Johnson with removal from office if he did not behave as a nice boy in the future.

If Johnson thinks more of his job than he does of any obligation he might have toward the public that supports baseball and contributes toward the revenue which makes possible a very nice salary for him, he will be a nice old fellow in the future and he will remain silent when the next scandal crops out. If Johnson keeps quiet all the scandals in the future will be buried promptly, as he has been the only one to declare himself.

RAINBOWS WIN OVER MOTLEY HIGH 16 TO 9

BRAINERD TEAM OVERTOPPED IN SIZE DIMINUTIVE MOTLEY QUINT

RAINBOWS CONTENT TO PLAY EASY PASSING GAME IN FIRST HALF

The Rainbows journeyed to Motley last night and won their first victory of the season at the hands of the Motley high school, 16 to 9. The Brainerd players were like giants alongside the players of the Motley team, and were content merely to play an easy passing game in the first half. In the second half they settled down, and won hands down, not allowing their opponents a single basket from the field during this time. Joe Day counted most for the Rainbows, making five field goals. Storhaugen and Peters did all the scoring for Motley.

For the Rainbows, the lineup was Day and Hagberg, forwards, Jones, center, and Orth and Lowe, guards, with Fitzharris taking Hagberg's place during part of the game. For Motley, Storhaugen and Peters were forwards, Seely center, and LaVoy and Hoveland, guards. The score at the first half was 7 to 6 in Motley's favor.

Old Man Zbyszko Wins From Allen Eustace

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, the old man of the mat game, clashed with Allen Eustace of Kansas and took two out of three falls here last night. The pole won the first fall with an arm lock, lost the second on a jackknife, and came back to win the third with a flying mare.

COBB'S TROUBLE RIGHT NOW IS AT SECOND BASE

(Copyright, 1925, by United Press.) Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17.—Chances of the Detroit Tigers to win the 1925 American league pennant rest largely upon the ability of the venerable but spry Tyrus Cobb to find a youngster who can handle the keystone sack capably. Given a good second baseman and return to topform of "Toppers" Rigney, shortstop, Cobb believes his athletes will finish on top. When the squad assembles at Augusta, Ga., about the first of March infield problems will receive the most consideration.

Lue Blue has the call at first base, but Johnny Neun from St. Paul will be on hand in case Blue falters from injuries again this season. Taveny, Texas league shortstop, will be used as an understudy for Rigney. "Bobby" Jones and Fred Haney will alternate at the hot corner and there remains but second base to provide an occupant for. Del Pratt, veteran, has been released and Cobb, probably will concentrate on O'Rourke, a veteran of the minor leagues, and Burke a recruit from last year.

FINNISH TRACK STAR WILL COME TO U. S.

New York, Jan. 17.—Albin Stenroos, Finnish distance runner, winner of the Olympic marathon, will come to the United States expecting to compete in the Boston marathon race of April 19.

The Boston race is run on Patriots day, but as that falls on a Sunday this year, the race may be advanced or postponed one day.

Stenroos is 40 years of age, but finished the marathon race, fairly fresh, although it was run under a blistering heat and the athletes dropped all along the route, many being taken to hospitals.

WONDERFUL GAME WON BY SCORE 13 TO 9

The Brainerd high school basketball team continued its winning streak by winning from Little Falls at the local high school last night, 13 to 9. This is the fifth victory this season, with no defeats. The victims include Pequot, Staples, Bemidji, Crosby-Ironton and Little Falls. Last night's game was one of the fastest seen here for some time. The guarding of the teams was particularly close, as is indicated by the score.

As usual, the opponents set several of their best men to watch Captain Wally Engbretson, and after Whitlock entered the game, the major attention was centered on these two men. They were in the thick of the fight at all times, Engbretson especially eluding his guards enough to count four times from the field. The Brainerd team played more as a unit than they have since the Bemidji game, with every man deserving of praise. Opsahl played his best game during the time he was in. The guards, Dieckhaus and Tribur, took everything off the board, allowing Little Falls but few follow-ups. Avery mixed in with the team play in exceptional fashion, and caged a pretty one-handed goal from the side-lines. Fortier, captain, and Blair, diminutive forward, played the strongest game for Little Falls, they being responsible for every point made by the down-river men. Fortier is a smooth player, always in the game, and drawing applause for his fast work.

The line-ups:
Brainerd: Engbretson, c. r. f. Blair
Avery l. f. Fortier
Opsahl c. Hauser
Dieckhaus r. g. Glerok
Tribur l. g. Verley
Substitutes: Braiford, Whitlock for Opsahl, Little Falls; Bastien for Blair, Blair for Bastien.

Scoring: Brainerd, field goals, Engbretson 4, Avery 1, Dieckhaus 1. Free throws: Opsahl 1 out of 2, Tribur, none out of 1. Little Falls: field goals, Blair 1, Fortier 3. Free throws, Fortier, 1 out of 3, Hauser, none out of 1.

Referee: Adams of St. Cloud. The score by periods was as follows:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Brainerd	5	7	11	13
Little Falls	3	7	7	9

Next Friday evening Brainerd and Aitkin high schools play at Brainerd. Aitkin appears to be the unknown quantity in this district, and local fans will watch with interest the outcome of this game. In a preliminary game, the Brainerd Girls' team will meet the girls' team from Riverton.

PRELIMINARY GAME. L. F. 2ND TEAM, 13; BRD. 12

In the preliminary game the Brainerd second team met defeat at the hands of the Little Falls seconds, 13 to 12. At the half Brainerd led 7 to 2, and it looked like a victory, with every man doing his best in the team play. In the second half, however, Rosenberg was taken out for use in the big game if needed, and his loss weakened the offense of the Brainerd seconds. Although he did not score himself, it was his passing and intercepting that put the ball in position for scores time after time.

The tall center of the Falls team, Mrozik, made his height and reach serve his team to good purpose, and it was his wonderful work in the second half, coupled with that of Bolander, sub-forward, that brought victory to their team. This was an overtime game, the score at the end of the regular playing time being 10 to 10.

The line-ups were:
Brainerd: Marshall, r. f. LaBlanc
Rosenberg, l. f. Shwintek
Lyddon, c. Mrozik
Lorenz, r. g. Eich
Putz, l. g. Scholander
Substitutes: Mayo for Rosenberg, Koop for Lyddon, Lyddon for Koop, Gile for Putz, Koop for Lorenz, Bolander for Shwintek.

Scoring: field goals, Marshall 4, LaBlanc 1, Bolander 2, Mrozik 1. Free throws, Marshall 2 out of 4, Lorenz 1 out of 1, Lyddon none in one, Putz none in one, Gile 1 in 2, LaBlanc 2 in 3, Mrozik 2 in 6. Referee: Lester Peterson.

DELANEY STOPS TIGER FLOWERS

ONE PUNCH DISPOSED OF LATTER AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

(By United Press.) New York, Jan. 17.—Jack Delaney, a long skinny Frenchman from Bridgeport, Conn., who stopped the sensational ascent of Paul Berlenbach some time ago, turned out to be another sensation-killer when he stopped Tiger Flowers, Atlanta negro, with one punch in Madison Square Garden last night.

Early in the second round of a contest that was scheduled to go 12 rounds, Delaney landed a right-hand punch to Flowers' jaw and the Atlanta negro was out for several minutes.

Haugens in Ski Meet

Cary, Ill., Jan. 17.—Norman Berger, Canadian champion, together with the Haugen brothers, Anders and Lars, of Minneapolis, are late entries in the international ski jump which will be staged here Sunday.

Goulet, 6-Day Racer Who Rode in Bicycle Grind Despite Appendicitis Attack, Sails with His Bride

Alfred Goulet, bicycle star, and his bride, the former Miss Jane L. Rooney of Newark, N. J., left New York on their honeymoon trip two days after their marriage. They sailed on the Adriatic on a Mediterranean cruise. Goulet rode in the six-day race in New York this year although he was suffering from appendicitis. He was operated on successfully immediately after the race.

CROSBY DEFEATS WADENA HIGH BY SCORE 24-13

WADENA TEAM SEEMED LOST ON THE BIG FLOOR OF CROSBY HIGH SCHOOL

TEAM WORK WAS RAGGED AND SHOTS FAILED BY 10 FEET TO REACH BASKET

The Crosby-Ironton basketball team defeated the Wadena high school at Crosby last night, 24-13. The Wadena team seemed lost on the big floor, their team work was ragged, and their shots for the basket fell short about ten feet on each try. Accustomed to their own floor, small in comparison to the man-sized Crosby floor, they could not get started at their best pace.

The Crosby team had good team work, appearing flashy at times. The score at the half was 18 to 4 in Crosby-Ironton's favor, and during the second half, the home team played with their second string men. During this half Wadena out-scored Crosby, but could not overcome the heavy margin.
